DECLARATION OF INDUSTRIAL INDEPENDENCE.

Platform Adopted by the St. Louis Conference, February 22-25, 1892.

"This, the great labor conference of the United States and of the world, representing all divisions of urban and rural organized industry, assembled in national congress, invoking upon its action the blessing and protection of Almighty God, puts forth to and for the producers of the nation this declaration of union and independence. The conditions which surround us best justify our co-operation: We meet in the midst of a nation brought to the verge of moral, political and material ruin. Corruption dominates the ballot box, legislatures, congress, and touches even the ermine of the bench. The people are demoralized. Many of the states have been compelled to isolate the voters at the polling places in order to prevent universal intimidation or bribery. The newspapers are subsidized or muzzled; public opinion silenced; business prostrated; our homes covered with mortgages; labor impoverished, and lands concentrated in the hands of capitalists.

"The urban workmen are denied the right of organization for self-protection; imported pauperized labor beats down their wages; a hiring standing army, unrecognized by our laws, is established to shoot them down, and they are rapidly degenerating to European conditions. The fruits of the toil of millions are boldly stolen to build up colossal fortunes, unprecedented in the history of the world, while their possessors despite the republic and endanger liberty. From the same prolific womb of governmental injustice we breed the great classes of paupers and millionaires. The national power to create money is appropriated, to enrich bondholders; silver which has been accepted as coin since the dawn of history, has been demitted, to add to the purchasing power of gold by decreasing the value of all forms of property, as well as of human labor, and the supply of currency is purposely abridged to fatten usury, bankrupt enterprise and enslave industry. A vast conspiracy against mankind has been organized on two continents and is taking possession of the world. If not met and overthrown at once, it forebodes terrible social convulsions, the destruction of civilization and the establishment of absolute despotism.

"In this crisis of human affairs the intelligent working people and producers of the United States have come together in the name of peace, order and justice. We declare our union and independence. We assert our purpose to vote with the political organization which is representative of our principles. We charge that the controlling influences dominating the old political parties have allowed the existing dreadful conditions to develop without a serious effort to restrain or prevent them. Neither do they now intend to accomplish a reform. They have agreed together to ignore in the coming campaign every issue but one. They propose to drown out the cries of a plundered people with the uproar of a sham battle over the tariff; so that corporations, national banks, rings, trusts, 'watered stocks,' the demoralization of silver and the oppressions of usurers, may all be lost sight of. They propose to sacrifice our homes and our children upon the altar of Mammon; to destroy the hopes of the multitude, in order to secure corruption funds from the great load of plunder.

"We assert that a political organization representing the political principles herein stated is necessary to redress the grievances of which we complain. Assembled on the anniversary of the birth of the illustrious man who led the first revolt on this continent against oppression, filled with the sentiment which actuated that grand generation, we seek to restore the government of the republic to the hands of the 'plain people' with whom it originated. Our doors stand open to all points of the compass. We ask all honest men to join hands with and help us. In order to restrain the extortions of aggregated capital, to drive the money changers out of the temple, 'to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty for ourselves and our posterity,' we do ordain and establish the following platform of principles:

1. We declare the union of the labor forces of the United States, this day accomplished, permanent and perpetual. May its spirit enter into all hearts for the salvation of the republic and for the uplifting of mankind.
2. Wealth belongs to him who creates it. Every dollar taken from industry without an equivalent is robbery. 'If any will not work, neither shall he eat.'
3. Demands a national currency, safe, sound and flexible, issued by the government only, without the intervention of banks, said currency to be a full legal tender for all debts public and private, and to be loaned to the people at a rate not to exceed 2 per cent, as set forth in the sub-treasury plank of the Farmer's Alliance platform, or by some better system, and also in payments in discharge of obligations for public improvements.
4. Demands the free and unlimited coinage of silver.
5. Demands that the amount of the circulating medium be speedily increased to not less than $50 per capita.
6. Demands a graduated income tax.
7. Believes that the money of the country should be as much as possible in the hands of the people, and, hence, demands that all national and state revenues be limited to the necessary expenses of the government, economically and honestly administered.
8. Demands that postal savings banks be established by the government for the safe deposit of the earnings of the people and to facilitate exchange.
9. The sub-committee upon the land plank, submits the following for approval: 'Land, including all natural sources of wealth, is the heritage of all the people and should not be monopolized for speculative purposes. The alien ownership of land should be prohibited. All lands now held by railroads and other corporations in excess of their actual needs, and all lands now owned by aliens, should be reclaimed by the government and held for actual settlers only.'
10. Transportation being a means of exchange and a public necessity, the government should own and operate the railroads in the interest of the people.
11. The telegraph and telephone, like the postoffice system, should be owned and operated by the government in the interest of the people.
12. Demands that the government issue legal tender notes and pay the Union soldier the difference between the depreciated money in which he was paid and the price of gold.

"Resolved, That we hail this conference as the consummation of a perfect union of hearts and hands of all sections of our common country. The men who wore the gray and the men who wore the blue meet here to extinguish the last smoldering embers of the civil war in the tears of joy of a united and happy people and agree to carry the stars and stripes forward forever to the highest point of national greatness."
